Cooperative Network and the University of Wisconsin Center for Cooperatives join together to bring you Cooperative Directors 101. Designed for new directors, this program covers cooperative board roles and responsibilities, cooperative finance, and practical tools for developing a more efficient and effective board.

Outstanding board leadership is a critical component of being a successful cooperative business. Great boards don’t just happen, however, they are built and honed. Governance training is critical to developing a productive and forward-thinking board, increasing productivity of the cooperative, and ensuring a positive relationship between the board and management.

Directors have many duties and responsibilities. Every director has a unique set of skills, expertise, and blind spots. It’s the collective perspectives and collaboration that create the best environment for sound decision-making. The stronger the individual directors are, the stronger the board will be as a unit.
